To Whom It May Concern;

Mark Bennick is a pleasure to work with on many fronts, with his wisdom beyond his years of, not only human nature, but of what the demand is, as far as audiences's trigger factor and excitement level that needs to be achieved.

Our working relationship involved, at first, and over a decade ago, a fine youthful magic act with a breath of fresh air encompassing pretty girls, fine props, good wardrobe and a solid illusion act which he can reshuffle the deck when it comes to twists and turns of his presentation. Always a crowd pleaser.

Personnally, I found Mark's accessible desire to continue reaching in all things professional with a respect from elder professionals throughout the country who we work with, and know for many years. He was not too proud to listen and learn from mentors that are high profile and legendary in their own rights, not just of large illusions, but of show business in general. This too, developed Mark into learning the business side of the undertakings of larger endeavors.

It wasn't long where our company discovered that Mark had intense facets of the entertainment business, therefore serving us, and others as production assistant, announcer, developing shows into a producer title and traveling worldwide, at this still young age, and all of these accomplishments were achieved without arrogance. What a wonderful combination of attributes in one fine person.

Mark is currently booked a year in advance with us, managing our small circuses in California, where we can rely on his judgements and professional call, where we do not have to fly to these venues. He handles, props for us, his illusions, our clients, our acts, the audience and audience control, and gives great communications, all the while. Truly a support system in one young, caring man.

If it is integrity, professionalism and smooth professional business that you are looking for, Mark Bennick is the answer. Please call if you have any questions, as we would be happy to speak with you regarding this attribute to our business.

Kindest Regards,
